Multigenerational: Hawks Cay, Florida

Other than maybe golf (that's a little hard to find in the Florida Keys) Hawks Cay, located about halfway between Key Largo and Key West, has all the ingredients for a multigenerational getaway: two- and three-bedroom waterfront villas, a Cliff Drysdale tennis program, myriad watersports, fishing, diving, and a spa. Unique touches like Segway tours and an on-property Dolphin Connection program are added insurance that family members of all ages will stay entertained, and it's a smart move to enroll the kids in the Camp Hawk Environmental Education Program—a curriculum-based half- or full-day program for kids ages 5-12 that focuses on the Keys ecosystem with a mix of hands-on learning and fun activities. Book it here: Hawks Cay Resort.
