

The Best Hotels in the Florida Keys for Waterfront Dining

Jill Martin | January 22, 2018

What is it about dining by the water that makes any meal that much more special? Is it the intoxicating views? The exorbitant prices usually encountered? Perhaps it's the breeze that lulls us into a state of rarely found relaxation? Whatever it is, when you find a venue that offers both an impressive panorama and epicurean enticements, it can change your world—or at least rock it for a while. With that said, we hope you're hungry... and ready for a change. These are the best waterfront hotel restaurants in the Florida Keys.

Hawks Cay Resort

WHY IT MADE THE LIST

The newest addition to this family friendly oceanfront playground is Angler and Ale, an indoor/outdoor bar and restaurant overlooking the marina and overflowing with local flavor. Broiled Florida lobster tail, grouper cheeks (ask for extra remoulade for dipping), or big coconut almond shrimp with jezebel sauce—oooh, it's so good. Even better? Relax around the firepit in a colorful Adirondack with an Angler's Delight, their signature cocktail that blends tequila, citrus juices, and agave nectar.

Hawks Cay is an island unto itself, a sprawling playground Read More
